FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Novis Corp US Inc and DANDE Consulting Announce Strategic Partnership to Deliver World-Class Cloud Managed Services and Lifecycle Optimization for SAP and Other Mission-Critical Solutions

[Austin, Texas] – June 16, 2025 – Novis Corp US (Novis) Inc, a leading company in managed services for the entire life cycle of mission-critical systems journey and DANDE Consulting, a specialized management consultancy, today announced a strategic partnership. This collaboration will combine the strengths of both organizations to position a comprehensive suite of services designed to facilitate the seamless Cloud Managed Services for mission-critical systems and SAP solutions.

The partnership aims to deliver world-class Cloud Managed Services and to empower organizations to maximize the value of their technology investments by leveraging Novis's deep expertise in cloud and SAP technologies and services, combined with DANDE Consulting's strong market insight. Together, the companies will guide clients through every stage of their mission-critical systems journey—from initial planning and implementation to seamless operations, ongoing support, upgrades, and continuous improvement.

"We are thrilled to embark on this partnership with DANDE Consulting," said Patricio Artiagoitia, CEO of Novis. "DANDE Consulting's proven expertise in the enterprise IT landscape perfectly complements our existing service offerings. This collaboration will enable us to extend unparalleled value to our clients, ensuring their mission-critical systems and SAP solutions are not only implemented effectively but are also finely tuned to support their evolving business needs for sustained growth and efficiency, with cost control enabled through FinOps capabilities."

Daniel Flick, President of DANDE Consulting echoed this sentiment: "Partnering with Novis Corp. represents a significant advancement in our mission to help organizations achieve operational excellence through cloud-based managed services for their critical SAP and non-SAP systems. Novis Corp.'s ability to manage complex enterprise ERP environments and its commitment to its customers' success make it an ideal partner. Together, we can deliver comprehensive solutions that drive digital transformation and generate measurable business results for our customers."

This partnership will focus on delivering tailored Cloud Managed services for SAP and non-SAP solutions across diverse industries, helping businesses to harness the full potential of their systems investments and achieve their strategic objectives.
